Becky Summers - Clown-Shrink

After CHS Becky completed her bachelor's degree at O.U. Then she promptly married Jerry Mullins. She taught Spanish and English for a while in between having a son and a daughter. Then she returned to O.U. and completed a PhD in Counseling Psychology. She taught at a Junior College in Midwest City and went into private practice.

They then moved to Tuscon where she worked first at St. Mary's Outpatient Psychiatric Center and later at TUSD as a school psychologist (she felt the holiday's time off was much better!).

Her son Michael is a Trauma Care Physician in St. Louis, and her daughter Margie is an engineer with the Air Force. Her daughter was able to let the family tour the "Rock" Command Center for the shuttle at Kennedy Space Center as her daughter was working on the ground safety desk ... and Hillary Clinton was there the same day ... but HER seat was out in the rain (where it should be FB).

Currently Becky is retired. And get this ... she took a couple of years of Chinese and had great fun being able to communicate where ever they went in China. During the same trip she inadvertently caused a huge group of Japanese tourists to break out in a spontaneous rendition of "Popeye the Sailor Man."

Recently Becky and her daughter made a trip to Mexico and found that they could still communicate in Spanish. Boy ... this lady speaks three languages.

Getting together with family and friends, especially the grandkids. She says she loves to hear about the good old CHS grads.

You might be interested to know that Becky was a guest singer (more like a gate-crasher) when the Tulsa Boys Chorus sang for a banquet in Tucson. Another Oklahoman was at her table and wouldn't even stand (as all good Okies do) for the singing of Oklahoma. It was a crowded ballroom, but she stood. She looked around for other Okies she knew were there, but no one joined her. As she began singing and then directed the boys and jumped for the final yell. They didn't kick her out, and the director came over the thank her and say how much the boys appreciated it. Heck, she was just having fun.

Becky says she was always was so impressed and envious by the dancers at the Daze performances, so late learner that she is, she took ballet for about ten years (and many black toenails later). She enjoyed it, anyway.

See Ya at the 50th Becky!!
